5. LGBT+ inclusive RSHE

6/29/2020 | 50 min

The new statutory guidance on Relationships, Sex and Health Education states that the new subjects should meet the needs of all pupils and that LGBT inclusion should be fully integrated. This is in line with the Equality Act 2010, but the language ...

4. Sexual Health

6/8/2020 | 46 min

From September 2020, all secondary schools in England will be required to teach about intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health. Data shows that this new content is urgently needed, but with major cuts to support services, and...

3. Pornography

5/19/2020 | 47 min

With greater access than ever before, and a growing number of young people saying they are regular consumers, what does it mean to teach about pornography in the classroom? In this episode, we look at what schools are now required to teach...

2. The Primary Problem. Do we still need Sex Education?

5/18/2020 | 39 min

New guidance for schools on teaching relationships, sex and health education paints a confusing picture for primary schools. Sex education is not compulsory but it is 'recommended' with almost no information about what this should...

1. RSE ABC. What does statutory status mean for schools?

5/18/2020 | 43 min

From September 2020, Relationships, Sex and Health Education will be statutory in English schools. After decades of campaigning, this is the first time that all schools will be required to teach these subjects. In this first episode we find out...
