

Music development plan summary: The Leys Primary School

All schools should have a music development plan from the academic year 2023-24. Schools are expected to publish a summary of their plan on their website from academic year 2024-25.

This template is designed to support schools to produce the summary. It should set out how the school will deliver high-quality music provision in curriculum music, co-curricular music and musical experiences, taking into account the key features in the national plan for music education:

- timetabled curriculum music of at least one hour each week of the school year for key stages 1 to 3
- access to lessons across a range of instruments, and voice
- a school choir or vocal ensemble
- a school ensemble, band or group
- space for rehearsals and individual practice
- a termly school performance
- opportunity to enjoy live performance at least once a year

The summary should reflect your school's music provision for the given school year and your plans for subsequent years. It should also refer to any existing partnership with your local music hub or other music education organisations that supports the school with music provision.

Before publishing your completed summary, delete the advice in this template along with this text box.

This is a summary of how our school delivers music education to all our pupils across three areas – curriculum music, co-curricular provision and musical experiences – and what changes we are planning in future years. This information is to help pupils and parents or carers understand what our school offers and who we work with to support our pupils' music education.

Part A: Curriculum music

This is about what we teach in lesson time, how much time is spent teaching music and any music qualifications or awards that pupils can achieve.

Your school should already publish the school curriculum for music for each year group online. This should also include how you are increasing access for disabled pupils and supporting pupils with special educational needs (SEND). Include a link to this information in this summary. For more, see the school information guidance on curriculum and on SEND for maintained schools and for academies and free schools.

If not included in your published school curriculum information, set out how time per week is allocated for curriculum music for each key stage and term (or each half-term) of the academic year.

Also consider including:

- whether your school music curriculum is informed by the model music curriculum (March 2021), non-statutory guidance for teaching music from Key Stages 1 to 3 or any other published curriculum guidance.
- a brief summary of the opportunities pupils have to learn to sing or play an instrument during lesson time, such as through whole-class ensemble teaching in some or all year groups.
- information on any partnerships the school has to support curriculum music, such as with your local music hub or other music education organisations. If you are a music hub lead school, you can refer to this here.

The school has recently undergone a significant change with regards to music provision and the Deputy Head Teacher will be leading this subject in 2024-25. Class teachers will also be supported to deliver 1 hour of music each week. The school already uses Charanga, an online platform and scheme of work based on the model music curriculum, to support non-specialist teachers to deliver music in school. A detailed long term plan for 2024-25 can be found on our website music page - The Leys Primary School Subject

Overview for Music - 2024-25 becoming a musician \(Based on the Charanga Model Music Curriculum\)

The school is fortunate to have a specialist music room, which has a range of tuned and untuned instruments including class sets of ocarinas, recorders and glockenspiels, for use during class lessons.

Part B: Co-curricular music

This is about opportunities for pupils to sing and play music, outside of lesson time, including choirs, ensembles and bands, and how pupils can make progress in music beyond the core curriculum.

Start with what music tuition your school offers outside of what is taught in lesson time, including one-to-one, small-group and large-group tuition for instruments or voice.

Set out what ensembles that pupils can join outside of what is taught in lesson time, such as choirs or vocal ensembles, as well as instrumental ensembles, bands and groups, and other forms of music-making.

Set out how pupils can make progress in music outside of lesson time, including instrument loans, weekend, after-school or holiday provision such as Saturday music centres, and any qualifications or awards pupils can achieve.

Also consider including:

- what instruments are offered, charging and remissions information, and if the tuition is subsidised or free, including for parents or carers in particular circumstances (e.g. pupil premium eligibility).
- how pupils can join choirs or ensembles and from which year groups, charging and remissions information, and if the tuition is subsidised or free, including for parents or carers in particular circumstances (e.g. pupil premium eligibility).
- information on where pupils can rehearse or practice individually or in groups.

Draw on information of any partnerships the school has to support co-curricular music, such as with your local music hub or other music education organisations.

Alternative titles for Part B could be 'Extra-curricular music' or 'Music tuition, choirs and ensembles'.

In addition to the weekly music lessons, the school offers opportunities to learn piano with a peripatetic teacher from the Herts Music Service and iRock. iRock <https://www.irockschool.com/parents-info> provide a 30 minute weekly peripatetic music lesson in groups where children form their own rock band and can learn to play the drums, keyboard, guitar or vocals as a group. Each term the children perform to their parents and two year groups. We are also fortunate to have the Stevenage Music Centre based at Nobel School, which provides a number of other opportunities for lessons and ensembles outside of school hours. We are also waiting for confirmation that Herts Music Service can provide school with a music teacher who can lead our choir.

Part C: Musical experiences

This is about all the other musical events and opportunities that we organise, such as singing in assembly, concerts and shows, and trips to professional concerts.

Set out what musical experiences are planned for the academic year, including regular events such as singing in assembly, musical performances, concerts and shows at the school, and trips to concerts outside of the school.

For musical performances, concerts and shows in and out of schools, include how pupils get involved and from which year groups, whether pupils are participating or are members of the audience.

Also consider including:

- charging information, and if events are subsidised or free, including for parents or carers in particular circumstances (e.g. pupil premium eligibility).

Draw on information of any partnerships the school has to support musical experiences, such as with your local music hub, music education organisations, music organisations or musicians.

Alternative titles for Part C could be 'Musical events' or 'Musical performances'.

All the children perform for their parents at the end of the Autumn term. These shows vary from EYFS who perform in class, to Lower School who perform a play with a singing/instrument component and Upper School who perform within year groups. The Year 6 cohort also perform an end of year leavers production which includes singing. Children learning instruments (recorder, steel pans) have also performed to parents at the end of their taught block of lessons. Historically the choir has also performed at the Christmas Lights service, at local care homes in the community and at school events such as the fair or food fair. They have also participated at Young Voices concerts and the Herts Schools Gala. The school also looks to provide opportunities to enjoy live music and workshops. In September 2023 we had a music week where all the children learnt Samba drumming and Key Stage 2 children completed a workshop with iRock, whilst Key Stage 1 and EYFS children watched a live performance.

In the future

This is about what the school is planning for subsequent years.

Use this space to include any information on any improvements you plan to make for subsequent years in curriculum music, co-curricular music or musical experiences, including when you plan to introduce changes.

Also consider including:

- any information that relates to the 7 features of high-quality music provision (see the text box at the beginning of the template), such as increasing lesson time to one hour a week each term, introducing the teaching of new instruments or having a termly school performance.

In the future the school is looking to enhance links with local secondary schools and thus develop the musical experiences available to our students. We have approached 'Create Music' about teaching Ukulele and guitar lessons both as part of the curriculum offer (Year 5) and as an extracurricular club. We also want to enhance our music provision by introducing a monthly performer/composer and listening to their music in Assemblies. There will also be opportunities for children learning instruments to perform to their peers during assembly time.

Further information (optional)

Use this space to provide any further information about your school's music development plan, including links to your local music hub partners, other local music education organisations and contacts.

The Department for Education publishes a guide for parents and young people on how they can get involved in music in and out of school, and where they can go to for support beyond the school.

Your local music hub should also have a local plan for music education in place from September 2024 that should include useful information.

If your school is part of a multi-academy trust with a trust-wide music development plan, you may also want to include a link to any published information on this plan.
