SCIENCE WEEK

Pupils have been enjoying the great outdoors at the Leys this week. Pupils in Freedman class were measuring the trunk of the girth of the Oak tree and making their own living art!

Shakespeare class in Year 6

In Shakespeare this week, we have really enjoyed reading our new book in English called 'The Silver Donkey'. The descriptive language and engaging characters have really hooked us into the narrative and we are looking forward to writing 1st person diary entries on Monday.

Across the school this week has also been science week and in Year 6 we have been investigating how animals have evolved over time. We learnt about Charles Darwin and his theories that proved very controversial when first published. We focussed on the different shapes of bird's beaks and how they adapted to suit their environment.

Last but not least, we have learnt about the presidential election in the US. We have been following closely the vote counting and are waiting with baited breath to find out the results from the four states that are still counting postal votes. Fingers crossed everything works out peacefully!

Tolkien - Hannah Magdalena:
Haikus on a Sycamore Tree

Leaves gracefully fall,
Branches moving side to side,
Slick skinny branches.

The ice cold weather,
Blowing the brown, rosewood
trees,
Leaves flying around.

As the leaves drop down,
Trunk as tall as a giraffe,
Slim maroon leaves.

Spiritual, Moral, Social, Cultural and British Values

The children in Nursery have been working hard this week to create different Firework Night pieces of work. The children have been working with their peers and the teachers to work as a group and also independently to increase their independence in a given task. The children have explored lots of different materials such as, paint, tissue paper, kitchen roll and chalk. I am sure they created their own firework mess in the classroom too!

The children have had a great week discussing Firework Night and creating their own rockets and fireworks!
